

Security Policy

This NISPS.net Privacy & Security Policy ("Policy") outlines the general policy and practices for the types of information that ESTEQ UAB, ("NISPS", "ESTEQ", "we", "us" or "our") gathers, how we use that information, and the options that our users ("you" or "your") have regarding our use of, and your ability to correct such information.

It's our overriding privacy principle that any personal information provided to us by you is just that: personal and private. As such, we will never sell, rent, share, or otherwise disclose your personal information to anyone except to provide our services or as otherwise described in this Policy, without providing explicit notice of such and the ability to opt-out.

NISPS.net and ESTEQ.net websites and services are not intended for, nor designed to attract, individuals under the age of eighteen. NISPS does not knowingly collect personally identifiable information from any person under the age of eighteen.

POLICY APPLICATION:

This Policy applies to information provided to us by: (i) visitors to our websites, (ii) users of our services (i.e., subscribers to any of our plans), and (iii) information we collect from visitors to the websites of our users. We generally serve merely as a conduit for information controlled by others, and as such this Policy may not apply to our users' websites. Our users' websites or those to which we provide links, may have their own privacy policies. Because of this, we strongly encourage awareness and understanding of such websites' separate privacy policies.

INFORMATION COLLECTION AND SHARING:

ESTEQ is the owner of the service information collected on this website and through any ESTEQ service. As visitors browse our website, or our users' websites if they are protected by NISPS, we normally log these visitors' interactions in order to provide better services to our users (e.g., using visitor log data in order to detect new threats and malicious third parties).

As part of our services, we may build statistical reports based upon what malicious visitors have visited certain site(s), in order to further protect your sites. We may also share information about our users or their visitors where we have a reasonable belief that they pose a security threat. In order for us to provide some of our services we may also provide information that you supply to us to our affiliates, vendors and service providers, which we use for billing systems, contract and account management, customer support, relationship management and other technical operations. In such cases, we will ensure that such entities are bound by appropriate confidentiality restrictions to protect the information covered by this Policy. However, we will never use or share personal information that you provide to us in ways unrelated to those described herein, without first letting you know and giving you the ability to opt-out.

We do not sell, rent, or share personal information with third parties.

BILLING INFORMATION:

ESTEQ collects and maintains certain information from our users for the purposes of billing. We may share this information with third party processors for the limited purpose of receiving payment. We do not store full credit card numbers and we use Braintree by PayPal as a payment gateway.

COOKIES:

Our site and services use "cookies" in order to provide a better service to you.

DATA AGGREGATION:

NISPS may aggregate data we acquire about our users and the visitors to their websites. For example, we may assemble data to determine how Web crawlers index the Internet and whether they are engaged in malicious activity. If we assemble this sort of data and provide it to external parties, our users' personal information will never be attached to or included in such aggregated data. Please note, data that our users provide to us, such as log files of their sites' visitors, may be included in the aggregate data, reports, and statistics.

DISTRIBUTION PARTNERS AND THIRD PARTY APPS:

From time-to-time, ESTEQ may notify you about an offer from one of our distribution partners (e.g., Apps Marketplace partners) via our website or email. While we may target particular types of users for these offers, we do all of the targeting within our systems and not externally. Our partners will not have any access to the targeting information, including the names of the people who may be interested in a particular product or service. Until you affirmatively respond to a promotional offer, we will not share any identifying information about you to any of these partners. If you install an app from one of our third party partners, ESTEQ may provide your email address to that partner for account creation and communication with that partner.

LAW ENFORCEMENT AND OBLIGATIONS:

It's possible that we may be required by law, court order, or other legal process to provide information about our customers to outside parties. It's our policy to ensure adherence to the due process of law in all such instances, and if we are required to provide information under these circumstances, we will, whenever possible, attempt to inform users whose information we are compelled to produce, unless prohibited by law.

We may also retain copies of personal information to comply with our legal obligations, pursuant to our data retention policies, or for such reasonable period as is required to address potential disputes.

DATA SECURITY, DATA INTEGRITY, AND ACCESS:

We take all reasonable steps to protect information we receive from our users from loss, misuse or unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration and/or destruction. We've put in place appropriate physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure such information. ESTEQ only processes personal information in a way that is compatible with and relevant for the purpose for which it was collected or authorized. We allow our users and their website visitors access to their own personal information, and allow them to correct, amend, or delete inaccurate personal information, except where the burden or expense of providing such access is disproportionate to the individual privacy risk, or where the rights of persons other than the requesting individual risk being violated.

REGISTRAR:

If you purchase ESTEQ's domain registration service, ICANN and the registry operators overseeing a domain's TLD require us to publish registrant data via the "WHOIS" protocol. We may also be required to share this public data with ICANN, registry operators, and other such bodies. Registrant data includes domain name, registrant name and contact information, and domain nameserver information.

NOTIFICATION OF CHANGES:

We take the trust and privacy of our customers and their users extremely seriously, and do not believe that we will need to change the core principles set forth in this Policy going forward. However, if we are required to modify this Policy, we will promptly provide notice of any material changes and post the modified Policy on this website along with the effective date of any necessary edits.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

This Policy was last updated on June 30, 2017.
